

Where you worship does not determine your ~~best~~ level of beliefs

People who live in contrys with war they do not have access to a church but they still believe and worship God home and eagle prayer is sometimes better to relax.

FOR
When you worship,
your body becomes
the new temple

For - • keeps good focus in Church

• with others motivates you to go
• makes them feel like God is present

“Where a person worships simply isn't important.”

FOR - Humans all contain a part of God so no matter the place worship will find God.

The Church is the home of the Holy spirit

I don't think its important where someone worships because being a Christian means having a relationship with God & Jesus and it doesn't matter where you do it. God & Jesus aren't a Church or live in a Church. So I agree with his statement. A lot of Christians do individual worship in the comfort of their homes.

Against - • Home worship
• Still the same thing
• Church = certain day

You can feel Omnipresence of God. Worship is important.

Church is a community

It is important to attend church (Christianity), but it can be done at home

- For -
- 'Guide' you to Heaven
 - Good teachings and moral rules to influence people
 - Include good examples of prayers to God

- Against -
- Free will
 - Resurrection
 - Atonement

- Against - Humans have free will
- Humans still need to make moral decisions regardless of the Bible to live for God and enter heaven.

"The Bible's teachings are all a Christian needs to live their life for God."

in other commands of God such as Stewardship to live for God

For

The bible is not just about sin and its consequences it explains how people can change their outlook on their own lives and how to change to suit God's expectations

The Bible can teach Christians the best way to live their lives if that's what they believe in.

FOR

The Bible serves as a collection of all of God's teachings such as forgiveness and love thy neighbor by following all of them you would be rewarded with eternity in heaven beside God

The Bible has timeless teachings.
eg. Golden Rule

For - gives good advice
liberalists would allow sacred texts

Against - goes against free will, might not be written by God, other teachings.

Against — the most important christian practice is not pilgrimage, as other practices such as prayer and belief are far more important, pilgrimage would not exist without belief in God.

Against

Pilgrimage is not the most important practice because building a relationship with Jesus & God is more important. A lot of Christians believe this. Some may want to walk in Jesus' footsteps but it is not an important thing to do overall in the Christian faith.

- Against —
- Praying which allows you to 'talk' to God
 - Baptism / Confirmation to devote yourself
 - Building a relationship with Jesus and God

Christians may visit Jerusalem to walk in Jesus' footsteps

Sacred journey as a act of worship for devotion

"Pilgrimage is the most important practice."

- For —
- Able to walk in Jesus' footsteps
 - Closer to God
 - Shows commitment to God

Against

Pilgrimage can cost a lot and Christians believe that money should go to those who need it most

Christians hold stewardship so pilgrimage is an unnecessary journey which negatively affect the environment

Baptism is more important because it makes you a member of the church. For pilgrimage does help with advice to people to become a better person.

~~Against~~ However you do walk in footsteps of Jesus in pilgrimage.

- For -
- Good incentive to live a good life
 - Hope that death is not the end
 - Helps Christians believe that there is a point to worshipping God

Against - If a Christian only believed in the afterlife they would not live in accordance to God's gift of free will.

Belief in just the afterlife and no other teachings disrupts balance and clouds a Christian's judgement leading to an overall negative outcome

Heaven is the ultimate reward

'Belief in the afterlife is the most important Christian belief.'

you should want to live by God's wishes not because you want to be rewarded

- Parable of the Sheep and the Goats

Shows that death is not the end

Christians believe in an afterlife, heaven & hell. For some Christians the afterlife is the most important belief because it gives people hope and faith that there is something after death. But there is no guarantee of an afterlife so I don't think that it's the most important belief in Christianity.

- Against -
- Belief in God because without that, no religion
 - Resurrection
 - Free will

Positive belief
God is more important to be believed in

Afterlife is important
Helps people make good choices

For - Infants should not be baptised as they are not old enough to make decisions and give consent to be baptised.

For - Infants are too young to

for - Some children are not at a mature age to make a commitment to God for the rest of their existence

Against infant baptism.

~~Parents~~ - Catholics baptise their infants which some would argue isn't morally correct and instead people should get baptised when they are able to choose to have a relationship with God.

Against

- Starting early to begin worship
- Parents guide them to a good life

- If Parents and god Parents agree that it is right
- Have choice for Confirmation

Should be their decision. They might not be a Christian all their lives.

You won't be a full member of the Church.

If a Christian then you should be baptised

FOR

Jesus was not baptised till 30 by John the Baptist in the Jordan river

'Infants should not be baptised.'

Against

Some believe babies are sinful until baptised

FOR

- free will to make our choices
- Too young to understand

- They should want to be Christian
